Mr Marsden

Well done to Year 9 pupils, who have coped really well this week with the challenge of completing formal exams in the Sports Hall for the first time. I hope you have found the experience to be a useful preparation for the 'real thing' in just a couple of years' time! The cast and crew of 'Narnia' have spent today working hard on an intensive day of rehearsals, as we look forward to 'opening night' after half-term. I really can't wait to see the show! For those of you who are not taking part, please come along and enjoy the show if you possibly can. Tickets are available on ParentPay so please discuss this at home. As well as the school production, the first week back after half-term will also see the beginning of Lent, a period when as Catholics we are preparing to celebrate the resurrection of Christ by following him more faithfully. This begins, of course, with Ash Wednesday, and it would be lovely to see you in the Chapel for Mass at lunchtime on the day.

I hope you all have a lovely break with your families. Take care.

Mr Marsden
